YOUR MOUTH IS A DOORWAY TO YOUR BODY'S HEALTH

Enjoy the rehydrating experience of the Oral7® range of oral care products developed especially for your daily comfort!

Many of today's oral care products contain SLS¹ or alcohol that can dry out the mouth with constant use.

Now experience the difference!

We all moisturize our face, hands and/or body on a daily basis. Why not moisturize the mouth and gums? When it comes to oral health, it is not only the teeth that need a little TLC, but the gums and inside of the mouth that need special care too.

THE MOUTH – a Complex Bio-system

The mouth is protected by a delicately balanced bio-system of enzymes and lubricants in the saliva allowing 'good bacteria' to flourish and inhibit the growth of pathogenic bacteria. Oral7® helps restore that balance.

The Antibacterial Effectiveness of the Oral7® range

Glucose oxidase & Lactoperoxidase system:

Research has demonstrated that a concentration above 100 micromolar of hypothiocyanite ion (OSCN), generated by Glucose Oxidase and Lactoperoxidase, is effective against a wide bacterial spectrum:

Gram (+) bacteria

Lactobacillus acidophilus
L casei
Streptococcus mutans
S. sobrinus
Listeria monocytogenes
Streptococcus aureus
Peptostreptococcus anaerobius

Gram (-) bacteria

Escherichia coli
Salmonella typhimurium
Pseudomonas aeruginosa

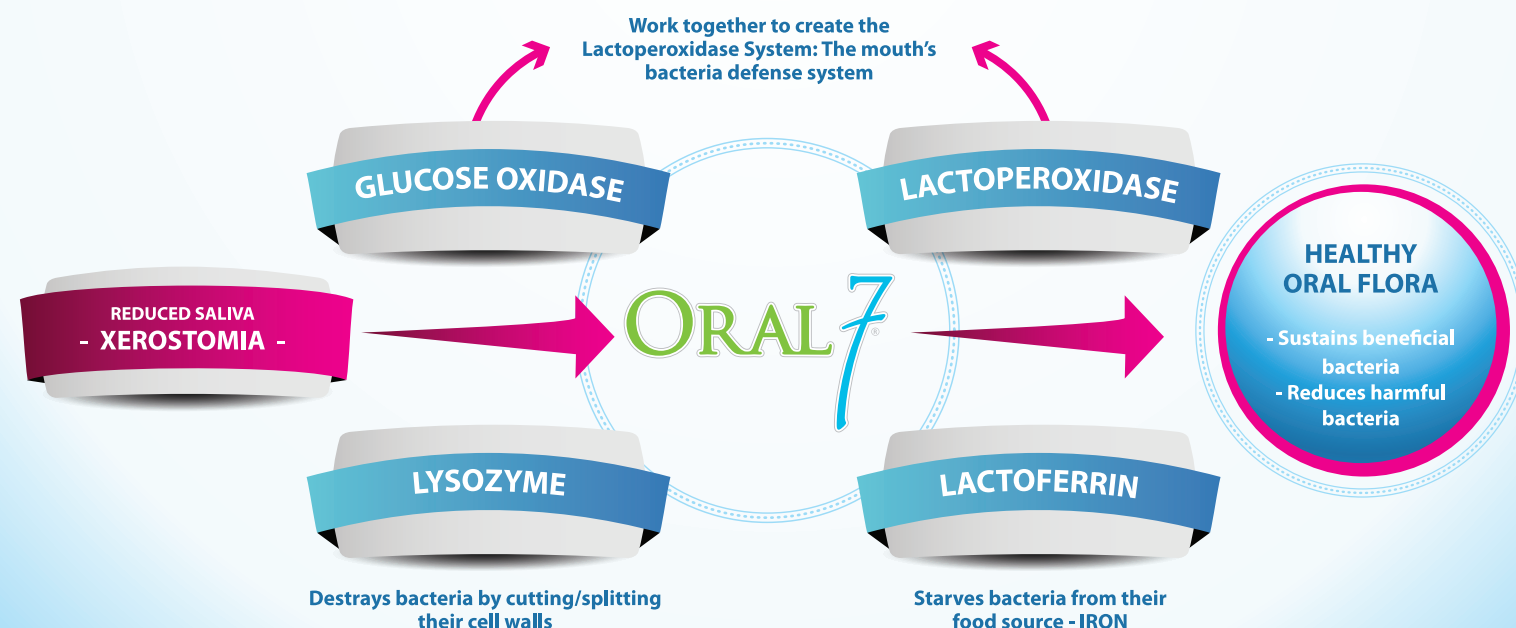

Yeast

Candida albicans

Viruses

Herpes simplex, type 1
Human immunodeficiency virus (HIV)

SOME CAUSES OF SALIVA REDUCTION IN THE MOUTH

A number of different factors can cause the mouth to produce less saliva, upsetting the delicate balance of the mouth's flora...

EXTRA BENEFICIAL FOR THOSE SUFFERING FROM DRY MOUTH

More than 25% of patients suffer from constant thirst and sleepless nights, or having difficulty speaking or eating. This can be due to their medications or medical treatments that in turn can cause "Dry Mouth" - Xerostomia, an uncomfortable condition resulting from the reduction of saliva in the mouth.

Dry Mouth disturbs the mouth's natural flora, allowing pathogenic bacteria to flourish, leading to bad breath, tooth decay, receding gums, gum disease and aphthous ulcers.
