Portable White Noise Machine

Sleep, anywhere

-  7 calming white noise sounds to help settle for sleep
-  Designed for home or travel
-  Portable, lightweight and compact
-  Soft LED-light with three brightness levels
-  Silicone strap with adjustable enclosure
-  Rechargeable battery with 48 hours playback

Suitable from birth–3 months and adults

The Drift Away Portable White Noise Machine is a lightweight portable unit that plays white, pink and brown noise sounds to help a baby, child or adult fall asleep. White noise can be helpful for sleep, by masking other sound and noises in the environment that may be distracting or disruptive for a person going to sleep, and staying asleep. Choose between seven Drift Away White Noise sounds, from static, to humming fans to elements of nature. Be soothed and calmed as you or your little one drift off to dreamland, with clean and clear sound quality that promotes deep and restorative sleep. Adjustable volume helps you find the right level, with the loudest setting at a safe 65db.

The compact and lightweight (96g) unit is seamlessly transported between the nursery, baby bag, car, and side of the pram when you're on the go. Designed with our signature neutral tones to suit discerning style aesthetics, the Drift Away Portable White Noise Machine looks as good as it sounds. With 48 hours playback on a single charge, you won't be caught short when out and about for a day, night or weekend away. The soft LED light with 3 brightness levels is useful for overnight nappy changes and finding a dummy in the dark.
